DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The information disclosure statement filed October 27, 2003 fails to comply with 37 CFR 1.98(a)(1), which requires a list of all patents, publications, or other information submitted for consideration by the Office. It has been placed in the application file, but the information referred to therein has not been considered.

No reference has been listed on a PTO 1449 (See page 3 of 6 of the IDS).

Drawings

2. The drawings are objected to because (1) the boxes in figure 2 should be properly labeled. For example, box 30 should be labeled "Digital Receiver", (2) a flow chart diagram is required to describe the claimed method steps. Applicant is reminded that should the drawings be corrected, the specification must also be amended to reflect the changes to the drawings.

Corrected drawing sheets are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

4. Claims 1-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Holt [6,580,393].

Holt discloses a system and method for determining the location of a transmitter using passive reflectors or reflectors as proxy receivers and using database querying. According to Holt, there is provided a database (memory) that stores a plurality of emitters along with their geolocations (e.g., longitude, latitude) and signal strengths (e.g., bandwidths, frequencies). See columns 1 and 2. According to Holt, there is provided a receiver (processor) that receiving a signal from an emitter and matches the signal with information stored in the database. See columns 3. Based on this matching an emitter is identified and a direction of arrival is estimated. See column 6. Based on the identified emitter and the direction of arrival, according to Holt, the location of an aircraft is determined. See columns 17-18. According further to Holt, a plurality of signals are received and each signal for a respective emitter is separated forth other received signals. The geolocation information, according to Holt, includes latitude, longitude and altitude and the information used to identify the emitter includes frequency, bandwidth, waveform, and signal strength, site-specific terrain information (column 6, 7, 8, 12) and wherein the signal (communication link) is selected from radio (broadcast) frequency signal, cellular phone (mobile) signal, personal communication system (columns 4, 5, 6).

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
